

A one stop shop for all your needs

Magazines

1. X-Ray Magazine is our periodical. Each issue contains about 100 double pages. All issues - 12 years worth - are free to download,

2. Article on subject matter in X-Ray Magazine. This can also be downloaded separately from the website - see pt. 5.

Magazines, websites, social media channels, newsletters and B2B services interact in a complete and coherent media ecosystem where features flow seamlessly from one media outlet to another - with news often flowing in both directions.

Content is also provided for 3rd party use

Content creation.

Content is created by editors and copy writers for multiple outlets at once: Articles for the media in our own group such as X-Ray Magazine, Underwater Journal and our websites and social media channels. We also provide materials, narratives and photos for use with other platforms, catalogues, website and other media.

Websites

3. X-Ray Magazine's website - xray-mag.com. News and press releases are continually posted on the front page.

4. Features and news are collated by subject matter in sections on xray-mag.com. Sample above features and news about 'Indonesia'

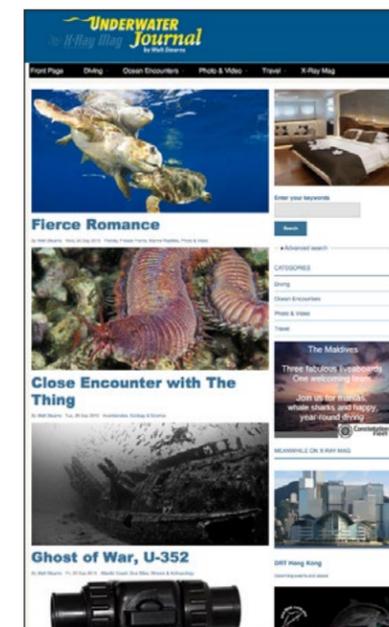

5. Articles from X-Ray Magazine are also posted as a webpage. In this case a resort in Indonesia - one that was also listed on the section page shown previously.

Social Media

7. Content posted on our websites are also curated for posting on social media channels - and vice versa. In addition, postings from collaborating partners and clients are imported to our sites and shared back on social media.

Blog

8. Underwater Journal (main page) carries in-depth reviews and op'eds.
